Support for Quick Progress on the EU-Vietnam FTA

The EU-Vietnam Free Trade Agreement (EVFTA) has been concluded for some time, and business is eager to see it ratified and implemented now. It will create a useful precedent in the field of trade and sustainable development for ASEAN and the wider region. Therefore, it is high time that both parties finally proceed with the ratification to allow its entry into force before the European Parliament elections in spring 2019. The undersigned associations call on the EU and its Member States to speed up the EVFTA ratification process so that consumers and businesses on both sides can reap its intended benefits.

For the signatories of this letter the EVFTA is a significant agreement:

1. Economic importance:

- The agreement will eliminate up to 99% of tariffs, opening up markets in the EU and in Vietnam. Vietnam is a fast-developing country of over 90 million people, and with a growing middle class, which will make it an important consumer market in the coming years;
- It will position the EU squarely within the ASEAN value chain and give it the possibility to reduce its trade deficit with the region; Moreover, European companies are currently facing tough competition from other countries that Vietnam has free trade agreements with, for example. Since 1st January 2018, Vietnam has granted a 0% import duty to most ASEAN imports.
- The EVFTA is very important for all our sectors, notably due to the first-time market opening opportunities it provides.
- It is also important for Vietnam, due to the growing need to modernise its economy to become a major actor in global value chains.

2. Geopolitical importance in strengthening EU-Vietnam relations:

- With increased uncertainty around global trade, the EU can fill the void created by the hesitation of larger economies towards liberalising trade, and their faltering efforts to avoid increased protectionism;
- Vietnam is a signatory of the Comprehensive and Progressive Agreement for Trans-Pacific Partnership (CPTPP), which has already been sent for ratification, and a further delay in implementing EVFTA would undermine the EU's current position in South East Asia;

3. The trade deal is the EU's first new generation FTA with an emerging country: the FTA will set a precedent for deals with similar countries and put a clear emphasis on trade and sustainable development provisions, especially in the areas of human rights, labour and the environment;

4. The trade deal opens up the possibility for closer engagement with Vietnam on sustainability issues: continuous cooperation with Vietnam will encourage open dialogue on issues of social and environmental rights in the country, with the aim of having a positive impact on the country's development for the benefit of its citizens and businesses.

The EU needs to act swiftly to avoid even further delay of the entry into force. We call on the European Commission, the Council and the European Parliament to refrain from taking the EVFTA hostage for institutional reasons, to the detriment of consumers and businesses on both sides. We acknowledge that other recently concluded agreements require attention and resources; it is, however, vital to respect the patience already shown by other third countries. We urge the EU not to side-line the EVFTA, since doing so sends the wrong message to our trading partners and hurts the EU's credibility in the global trading community. Moreover, Vietnam already expressed its readiness to sign and ratify the agreement as soon as possible in 2018, as confirmed by the Secretary General of the Communist Party of Vietnam Nguyen Phu Trong in Paris on 26th March 2018.

JOINT-STATEMENT BY BUSINESS ASSOCIATIONS

Next steps:

The signatories of this letter ask the EU institutions and the Member States to take account of, and take decisive action on, the following points:

1. The European Commission should submit the trade parts of the agreement to the Council after its College meeting on 18th April 2018;
2. The Council should put Vietnam on its agenda for the meeting in May 2018 and initiate discussions immediately thereafter with the European Parliament;
3. The EU should aim for the agreement's ratification and entry into force by the end of 2018 and before the European Parliament elections in spring 2019.

By addressing the above concerns, we can ensure that EU Trade Policy continues to deliver on its promise of economic growth, job creation and engagement on issues of sustainable development.
